PAYING YOUR RENT

INTRODUCTORY NOTES

Context outcomes
Understand that it is important to get receipts as proof that rent has been paid.
Understand that a landlord must provide a receipt if a tenant requests one.

CLB outcomes
- Get information from very basic short texts.
- Express a request for a receipt.
- Fill out a cheque and a receipt.

Activities
Paying your rent
Getting proof that you paid your rent: Three stories
Cheques and receipts

Additional information
Paying rent
The information in this activity kit is based on CLEO's Steps to Justice questions on Paying rent, including How do I pay the rent? as well as How much rent can a landlord charge?
Read the questions and answers before using the activity kit, and keep the information on hand for reference as you guide learners through the activities.

Please take note
The information in these activities applies to most but not all tenants. The Residential Tenancies Act (RTA) applies to most rental housing in Ontario. Some rental housing is not covered. For example, a tenant who shares a kitchen or bathroom with the owner or a close family member of the owner might not be covered.

The information in these activities is not a substitute for legal advice. Every situation is different so learners with concerns should get legal help. Tenants can contact their local community legal clinic. To find the nearest community legal clinic, go to the Legal Aid Ontario website at legalaid.on.ca/legal-clinics or call Legal Aid Ontario toll-free at 1-800-668-8258.

A. Practise asking for a receipt.
   You can say:
   I need a receipt, please.
   I’d like a receipt, please.
   May I please have a receipt?
   Could I have a receipt, please?
   Can I please have a receipt?

B. Complete the conversation.

Sheikh: Hi John. Here’s my rent for March.
John: Thanks.
Sheikh: __________________________ ?
John: Sure...Here you go.
Sheikh: Thanks.
2. Paying by cheque

Juanita rents a room in a house. She pays her rent on the first day of the month. Her rent is $800 a month. Juanita pays by cheque. She gives the cheque to her landlord. Her landlord’s name is Eduardo Lopes. She asks Eduardo for a receipt. This is Juanita’s cheque for her December rent.

CLEO UPDATED NOVEMBER 2022
3. Paying with a money order

Mei and her two children have an apartment. Mei pays her November rent on the last day of October. She pays her rent by money order. She pays by money order because she doesn’t have a chequing account. She gets the money order at the post office. She gives her landlord one copy of the money order, and she keeps one copy. She asks her landlord to sign and date the back of her copy of the money order.

Look at Mei’s money order and answer the questions.

1. What is the date? ________________________________

2. What is Mei’s rent? ______________________________

3. What is Mei’s address? ____________________________

4. What is Mei’s landlord’s name? ________________________

5. What is on the back of the money order? ________________
Cheques and receipts

A. Write a cheque to your landlord.

B. Ask your landlord for a receipt.
   Tenant: Here is my rent cheque.
   Landlord: Thank you.
   Tenant: I need a receipt, please.
   Landlord: Here is your receipt.
   Tenant: Thank you.

C. Write a receipt to a tenant.

Paying your rent

The picture provides a way of introducing the topic. If you have access to a projector, you may want to project the picture on a screen or wall. Learners can talk about what they see and write the words they know. Learners can answer the questions independently and then discuss their answers with a partner. After you check comprehension as a class, learners can brainstorm possible captions for the picture.

Elicit responses and discuss: How do you pay rent? What is a receipt? What is on a receipt? What does a receipt look like? Why do you need a rent receipt? Show samples of receipts if available.

To demonstrate the importance of getting a receipt when you pay your rent, role play a landlord and try to collect rent from someone twice for the same month. Useful phrases when tenant protests: “No receipt, no proof.” “I don’t think you paid—prove it.” etc.

CLEO’s Steps to Justice is a website that gives step-by-step information about common legal problems, including housing law issues. Steps to Justice has practical tools like forms and checklists, and referral information for legal and social services. Visit stepstojustice.ca and see the information in the Housing Law section.

Cheques and receipts
(page 6)

Learners can work in pairs to role play paying rent and asking for a receipt, taking turns being landlord and tenant. They can use the expressions they learned in the previous activities, including those in Practise asking for a receipt (1.A on page 3). Learners can cut out the cheque and receipt to exchange during the role play, or you can provide them with blank copies.

Extension suggestion: Brainstorm questions a customer buying a money order would be asked. Learners practise asking and answering in pairs.
